

ADVERTISING WITH THE RCPA

To advertise job vacancies via the College website and fortnightly e-newsletter, Pathology Today, produced by the College (current circulation of the newsletter is 3600) you will need to complete a form.

Advertise your job vacancy on the College website until the closing date (a finish date must be supplied). A one line "attention grabber" will also appear in the employment section of the fortnightly member only newsletter Pathology Today directing readers to the website.

The cost of advertising is a flat fee of $AU300 (GST inclusive) for employment agencies acting on behalf of an organisation. The request must name the role and the company it is for and cannot cover generic positions with no real closing date. There is no charge for College Fellows/Members and the institutions they work in.
