SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF ENTRY DURING PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCIES

By entering the Venue, Patrons acknowledge that there is a heightened risk of contracting COVID-19 and the Venue owner, Manager, and Hirer do not guarantee that it is or will remain a COVID-19 free area.

The Patron assumes all risk for any loss or damage caused in this regard while in or around the Venue.

By entering the Venue and providing the information, each Patron authorizes the Venue owner, or Manager to collect and store a Patron's personal data, who may share it at any time with relevant authorities for the purposes of contact tracing.

Patrons may be denied entry to, or removed from the Venue for any failure to comply with a direction or request from the Manager, Hirer or relevant health authority, including but not limited to, additional health and temperature screenings or subsequent failure to meet satisfactory results from those screenings, or failing to adhere to any social distancing, hygiene practices or other processes, as deemed appropriate by the Manager or Hirer.

Patrons acknowledge that by entering the Venue, they are not currently exhibiting any respiratory symptoms (including but not limited to a cough or shortness of breath) sore throat, fatigue, loss of smell or taste, a runny nose, muscle pain, joint pain, diarrhoea, nausea/vomiting or loss of appetite, or that during the past 14 days, they have not had close contact with a confirmed or probable case of COVID-19, or have lived in or travelled through a COVID-19 hotspot. If one or more symptoms are present, a Patron must not attend the Event or attempt to enter the Venue and should immediately seek medical advice in accordance with the directions of relevant health authorities.

In addition to the Special Conditions of Entry during public health emergencies, entry to the Venue is subject to the ICC Sydney General Conditions of Entry available at iccsydney.com.au/Venue/Venue-Information/Conditions-of-Entry or on request at our Customer Service desk.
