The support of the Mike and Carole Ralston Travelling Fellowship 2017 has been incredibly valuable to me while living in the US and conducting my research. The support of this generous grant has been of immense financial support for the basics of everyday life, giving me the opportunity to afford to attend other specialised conferences, for example CRISPR/Cas9 workshops being run at The Broad Institute where cutting edge developments in the gene editing field are discussed. Thank you again to Mike and Carole Ralston, and the RCPA for their generous support.
