

2010 RCPA Scholarship in Pathology for Medical Schools - Leigh Warren

This RCPA research scholarship provided me with the funding to conduct a research project that may not have otherwise been possible. With the means to follow this research from concept to publication and presentation I have been able to immerse myself in the entire research process. This experience has taught me a great deal about many aspects of research and has certainly stimulated me to seek further research opportunities. It has also broadened my exposure to the field of Pathology and what a career in this field might offer. I am very grateful that I was able to receive one of these scholarships and the support of enthusiastic supervisors, in particular Dr Sophie Otto. I hope that these scholarships will continue to encourage medical students to become involved in pathology research for many years to come.
